Preface by the programme manager

“...perhaps we have not perceived quickly enough that we are in a society which is changing radically. We’ve laid our plans on the basis that the future will be substantially the same as the past, and however good the plans have been, however fine the goals which we have set ourselves, and many people have done extraordinarily well – they have lacked the crucial element of a more realistic view of the future.”

- Gavin Relly, chairman of Anglo American Corporation

Dear Student,

A warm word of welcome from the NWU Business School. May your studies here be both enriching and pleasant. I hope that your association with the Business School will be to your advantage as well as to that of your company, and that it will become a lasting and possibly even a permanent one.

The vision of the Business School is to be at the cutting edge of practical business solutions – a goal on which we are focused.

The mission of the Business School is the unlocking and realisation of the leadership potential of people.

We achieve this by adhering to the highest standards of:

- Quality
- Professionalism; and
- Creativity

In the compilation and presentation of the training courses, the Business School endeavours to achieve the highest quality. Overall, this mission leads to the development of successful general managers and contributes to the development of management and the national economy in South Africa. The philosophy of management training at the Business School is the following:

- The fundamental basis of our training is that of educating the student in such a way that he/she realises the importance of ethical norms and morality in management.

This philosophy is the basis of management in a free market economy and open community and forms an integral part of the Christian philosophy and world view that is upheld by the North-West University.

- An integrated management approach is followed. Therefore, the student is taught to think in an inter-disciplinary, analytically-scientific and holistic way. It is therefore not the philosophy of the Business School to train specialists in the functional areas of a business organisation, but to prepare the student for his/her role in a mature integrated top management team.
- The training of the Business School is academically based and therefore comprises an established theoretical foundation. It is a high priority of the Business School that the student receives training in the science of management.
- The training is furthermore practical and professional. The students are expected to apply the theory, ethics and principles of management in the actual business environment, as management is always situation bound. For this purpose, case studies, technical reports and practical exercises are used.
- The training is structured in a manner that ensures that students receive training in certain management skills. The Business School furnishes the students with instruments that enable them to become managers. To become a good manager, however, the student must possess the relevant, inherent managerial qualities.
- Creativity and innovation are key concepts in the philosophy of training at the Business School. The development of entrepreneurs and intrapreneurs accordingly enjoys the highest priority during training.
- The Business School is client oriented. Students are not merely numbers on a computer. Personal attention to the individual student is a high priority in the training philosophy of the Business School. The Business School is concerned about the future welfare of its clients.

In order to apply this philosophy in such a manner that the student reaps the greatest benefit from it, the Business School progressively makes use of a training structure that is based on communication between lecturer and student on the one hand, and communication between student and student on the other hand. Obviously, the part-time management-training programme calls, in great measure, for independent study and work. The growing importance of group decision-making in the modern approach to management compels the simulated application of this technique in the process of management training. To achieve this, students are divided into syndicate groups.

The training will progressively be modelled around work within these groups. In conclusion, the management training will be provided in the form of regular lectures on Saturdays (Potchefstroom), Mondays (Vaal Triangle Campus) of block release (Mafekeng). It will be supplemented with study schools, which are used as a means of developing or rounding off of students.

The structure for management training was created by the Business School for the sole benefit of the student. However, it requires maximum effort and input from the student to achieve maximum returns there from.

The purpose of this study guide is to provide the student with a brief synopsis of the entire MBA programme. I would strongly urge you to study the attached pages of this study guide carefully, as it is extremely important that you are well informed as to what we expect from you and also what you may expect from us.

On behalf of myself, as well as the academic and administrative staff of the Business School, I wish to place our services at your disposal at all times. The completion of an MBA degree at the Business School is your key to success. We wish to extend our best wishes to you during your period of study.

Best wishes

PROF RONALD LOTRIET

MBA PROGRAMME MANAGER

Introduction

The study guide's purpose is to furnish you with a brief explanation of the MBA degree. It provides the following information:

- Which courses you will follow.
- Goals of each course.
- Prescribed work for each course.
- Recommended reading material for each course.
- The work programme for the year.
- The lecture schedule and dates.

Please note that this study guide does not replace the official brochure of the NWU Business School.

Correspondence

All correspondence must be directed to the Programme Manager at the following address:

The Programme Manager
Prof Ronald Lotriet

If you should require further information with regard to a specific course, please contact the relevant lecturer in this regard.

Rationale

This module aims at equipping you as an MBA student to think strategically when analysing the history of a company. This process is necessary when evaluating past performance as well as planning future strategies and directions of a given organisation/business. You will need to apply all the knowledge accumulated over the previous years of your studies. Every subject will have an influence in this regard.

The module, "Company project" is a group project. However, the individual contribution of group members will be closely monitored and assessed by members of the group and mentors alike.

Method of work for this module

Unlike other modules of the MBA programme, this module entails mostly group work. Students will be selected into workable groups within geographical areas. Each group will have to select a suitable organisation or division of such organisation, and completing a project encompassing:

- A case study of the organisation (the recent past (history) of such organisation)
- formulation of a winning strategy for the next three years
- planning for the effective implementation of such winning strategy

The presentations to a panel of Business School academics, the other members of the MBA Phase 2 group, as well as a few members of the management team of the chosen organisation will take place on predetermined dates.

Strict confidentiality will be ensured throughout the process and only selected academic staff members who are part of the project evaluation will have any insight into the prepared project document. After presentation, this document (all copies) can either be returned to the organisation, or destroyed.

On top of the mandatory contact sessions, each syndicate group will have to communicate with their allocated mentors for a minimum of 10 hours.

Module outcomes

Upon completion of the module, the participant should be able to:

- Influence managerial processes and structures critical to the successful implementation of the formulated strategic action plan; and
- Integrate the multi-discipline world of management training to practical problem-solving on a company level.

Assessment criteria

The module outcomes will be mastered if you are able to:

- Submit a competitive hard copy containing:
 - E A case study of the organisation (the recent past (history) of such organisation)
 - E formulation of a winning strategy for the next three years
 - E planning for the effective implementation of such winning strategy
- Present the project to a panel of Business School academics, the other members of the MBA Phase 2 group, as well as a few members of the management team of the chosen organisation on predetermined dates.

Assessment

Assessment will be in both formal and summative format: Formal assessments will take the form of individual and group assignments; There is critical cross-field outcomes between the module, MBAC 811 - Strategy management (Strategic formulation), and the MBAC 812 – The Company Project, (Strategic application). As a consequence these 2 modules are aligned.

The summative assessment could be in the form of one formal four-hour open-book examination or a component of the POE of the Company Project and final oral examination (panel presentations)

Assessment plan

Formative (Participation mark)

Assessment method
All registered students are obliged to attend presentations of all groups on predetermined dates
Must assess presentations and submit assessment
Will be part of discussion during feedback session
Refer to example of assessment form – Appendix A

Summative mark

Assessment method	Number	Maximum marks	Weight
Presentation of Company Project to panel of examiners	1	100	100

Warning against plagiarism

ASSIGNMENTS ARE INDIVIDUAL TASKS AND NOT GROUP ACTIVITIES. (UNLESS EXPLICITLY INDICATED AS GROUP ACTIVITIES)

Copying of text from other learners or from other sources (for instance the study guide, prescribed material or directly from the Internet) is not allowed – only brief quotations are allowed and then only if indicated as such.

You should reformulate existing text and use your own words to explain what you have read. It is not acceptable to retype existing text and just acknowledge the source in a footnote – you should be able to relate the idea or concept, without repeating the original author to the letter.

The aim of the assignments is not the reproduction of existing material, but to ascertain whether you have the ability to integrate existing texts, add your own interpretation and/or critique of the texts and offer a creative solution to existing problems.

Be warned: students who submit copied text will obtain a mark of zero for the assignment and disciplinary steps may be taken by the Faculty and/or University. It is also unacceptable to do somebody else's work, to lend your work to them or to make your work available to them to copy – be careful and do not make your work available to anyone!

Strategic thinking: The company project

Background

A culture of strategic thinking

- Continuing an increase in general, global levels of change, uncertainty and turbulence;
- An operating environment in which the past is not a reliable guide to the future;
- Continuing high levels of competition;
- Effects of globalisation...lead to hyper-competition
- This requires the cultivation and maintenance of a strategic thinking culture in all organisations;
- Strategic thinking activities are guided overall by continuing efforts to gain and sustain competitive advantage for the organisation in its industry;
- An overall focus is on creating sensitivity to strategic thinking issues, rather than on just providing the answers to such issues ... the issues change ... so do the answers;
- Strategic planning efforts should be supported by an ongoing strategic culture in the organisation;
- This strategic thinking culture should be supported by and integrated with a dynamic learning climate in the organisation;
- Achieving strategic success in the 21st century requires peak performance
 - E Existing business
 - E New business
 - E Maintenance of an optimal balance
- Achieving peak performance in existing business:
Operational efficiency ... doing more with less
- Achieving peak performance in new business: Strategic effectiveness
 - E New products / services
 - E New markets
 - E New processes
 - E New approaches

Structure of the project (±75 pages) supported by appendices (appendices are not included in the 75 pages)

Phase 1

Overview of the recent past of the chosen organisation (typically last 10 to 25 years), presented as a case study:

- Will constitute ± first 25 pages of the 75;
- Focus on important events, highlights, trends and trend breaks, changes in strategy, changes in CEO's, changes in culture, among others;
- Results achieved; both strategic results as well as financial results;
- This contributes to a profile of the chosen organisation and its positioning within its industry
 - E The industry
 - E The market(s)
 - E The (major) competitors
- Phase 1 = first 25 pages (supported by appendices) of the company project;
- Developed, written and presented in the format of a case study.

Phase 2

Development of relevant strategic building blocks, integration and formulation of a 'winning strategy' for the chosen organisation

- Will constitute ± 25 pages of the 75;
- Based on the previously developed strategic/ organisational profile;
- Future period: Financial years 2019 (*base year) 2020 and 2021;
- More often encountered aspects:
 - E Vision statement
 - E Mission statement
 - E Shared / central values
 - E Strategic stance (ways of adding value and competing effectively)
 - E Strategic objectives
 - E Financial objectives
 - E Strategic performance gaps
- More often encountered aspects:
 - E Critical issues in the future macro environment of the organisation
 - E Critical issues in the future operating environment of the organisation
 - E Internal organisational assessment
 - E Core and distinctive competencies
 - E Competitive capabilities and SWOT
 - E The golden thread: Pulling all the foregoing together
 - E A number of strategic action plans

Phase 3

Effective implementation of the winning strategy developed previously

- Will constitute $\pm$ 25 pages of the 75;
- Focus should be on the implementation of strategy;
- Successful implementation will achieve the formulated strategic, as well as financial objectives;
- An integrative and multi-disciplinary viewpoint should be brought to gear on the relevant strategic issues and 'how' they will be implemented;
- Maintain an overall, macro-perspective (supported by appendices) ... do not descend into too much detail.
- Only the relevant aspects covering the planned period 2019 to 2021 must be addressed:
 - E Financial aspects
 - E Marketing aspects
 - E Human resource aspects
 - E Risk aspects
 - E Entrepreneurial aspects
 - E Operational aspects
 - E Project management aspects
 - E Information and technology aspects
- Frequent external changes create uncertainty and threats, but also new opportunities for profit by means of new business initiatives
 - E This is known as entrepreneurship
 - E Leads to the increasing integration of corporate entrepreneurship into strategy implementation
- Role of strategy implementation in the identification of the sources of future superior performance.

Concluding comments on the company project

The presentation (Panel)

- 45 minutes for the project:
 - E Case study
 - E Formulation of strategy
 - E Implementation of strategy;
- 10 minutes for the effective answering of questions from the panel;
- 5 minutes for panel for discussion;
- Panel consists of Business School lecturers, as well as a few representatives from the top management team of the chosen organisation;
- Careful planning of the presentation;
- Add value to the written ($\pm$ 75 page) document...do not just summarise the document;
- Concentrate on the future: 2019, 2020 and 2021;
- Concentrate on the student group's recommendations;

- Use available and value-adding presentation technology;
- Choose the speaker(s) carefully;
- Practise the presentation;
- Stick to the time limits.

The presentation (group members)

- 25 minutes for the project;
- 5 minutes for questions.

General tips

- Make sure your syndicate group is of a viable size – if not, discuss this with Prof Ronnie Lotriet;
- Choose your company / organisation / division very carefully;
- Make sure that most business / managerial functions are included;
- Meet with key decision makers in chosen organisation and ensure that cooperation will be there and that information will be supplied...Confidentiality;
- Every group member must be 100% utilised;
His/her competencies must be optimised;
Plus/minus equal work-loads must be ensured...do not allow passengers;
Planning the project and the work load and period rebalancing;
- Appointment of syndicate group leader (liaison);
- Careful time planning with sense of urgency...
- Start working NOW or else “catastrophe looms”;
- Marks awarded for company project the same as for the module: 12 credits each;
- Remember that a few senior management representatives of chosen organisation will attend the presentation...image of syndicate group (Appendix C: Example of invitation to representatives);
- Documents must be in English in all cases;
- The presentation can be in English or Afrikaans according to the group's preference;

MBA 2019: OFFICIAL COMPANY PROJECT

We hereby wish to invite you as member of the management team of the chosen organisation, to attend the presentation of the syndicate group on the scheduled date.

This also serves to confirm that the MBA third year syndicate groups have to prepare and successfully present a company project.

It entails each syndicate picking a suitable organisation, or division of such organisation, and completing a project encompassing

- The recent past (history) of such organisation
- Formulation of a winning strategy (2019 to 2021), and
- Planning for the effective implementation of such winning strategy

The co-operation of the company picked by the group will be highly appreciated.

The presentations (22 or 23 July 2019) to a panel of NWU Business School academics as well as a few members of the management team of the chosen organisation, will take place during the Winter Study School.

I hereby confirm that confidentiality is ensured throughout the process and that only the selected academic staff members who are part of the project evaluation will have any insight into the prepared project document. After presentation, this document (all copies) can either be returned to the organisation, or destroyed.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'TE du Plessis', is written over a light blue rectangular background.

Yours faithfully
